GIRL ON STAND IN RAPE CASE BREAKS DOWN

Court Calls Recess After Jean Igle Sobs During
Her Recital of Story
Of Alleged Assault

In a shy, often emotional, recital of her story of alleged rape by a 25-year-old woman, Jean Igle, 19, broke down in sobs during her testimony in the rape case of the late Mr. J. Edgar Igle, Jr., who was shot and killed in the Wilmington area last week.

After the recess, Miss Igle was more composed and continued her direct examination by Mr. James A. Maguire, 24, of the 1300 West 10th Street, who was retained by the State Prosecutor.

Under the cross-examination of Mr. Charles Young, attorney for the defense, Miss Igle testified that she had been with the late Mr. Igle at the time of the assault.

When the first day of the trial was over, Miss Igle was taken to the County Jail where she was held incommunicado with the world.

To Resume Stand Today
That, when the trial is resumed today, Miss Igle will again be on the stand and her story will be continued.

Miss Igle's story, which was told in a simple, direct manner, was the first of the evidence in the case.

Aerial View of Scene of Bridge Disaster

The aerial view of the Charles W. Collins Bridge over the Indian River shows the south approach of the bridge. The bridge collapsed in the center of the span, leaving a gap of about 100 feet. The river is visible in the foreground, and the surrounding area is covered in snow.

WILMINGTON HIGH BUILDING CALLED 'DISGRACE TO CITY'

Inadequate Facilities
Conducive to Low Morale,
Dr. Miller Says

The Wilmington High School building was recently visited by Dr. Miller, who called it a "disgrace to the city" because of its inadequate facilities and low morale.

Dr. Miller's visit was part of a series of inspections by the State Board of Education to improve the quality of the state's schools.

Dr. Miller's report was critical of the school's facilities, including the lack of modern equipment and the poor condition of the building.

Dr. Miller's report was also critical of the school's morale, which he said was low due to the poor facilities and the lack of interest in the school.

Dr. Miller's report was also critical of the school's administration, which he said was not doing enough to improve the school's facilities and morale.

Dr. Miller's report was also critical of the school's teachers, who he said were not doing enough to improve the school's facilities and morale.
